Roof Project update:

I thought I would give everyone the latest news from the Tulsa roof project.

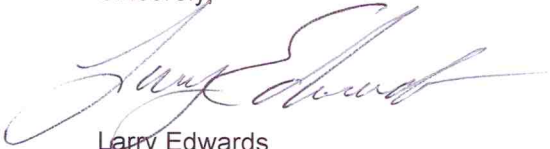

I want to thank Nohava for the great job they did for us. They worked extremely hard to complete this project ahead of schedule, and made sure the roof was done correctly.

After completion we had a leak in the lab. The inspector from Duro-Last came out and patched the leak. The patch did not work so the next morning Brody Nohava drove back down from Le Mars to Tulsa and put the patch on correctly. Brody fixed the problem and stayed here to make sure the patch worked after we flooded the roof. Just showing the commitment these guys have, he then had to drive back to Sioux City for a job the next morning.

Brian Nohava was also working on this project every day with quite a handicap, he was sick from inhaling pesticide from a crop duster that had sprayed his house and his truck. That didn't stop him from working on the project even though he felt terrible. It is great to see a company and an owner with that kind of commitment.

I would also like to thank Terry Mouw, for his help and picking Nohava for this project. And, of course Drew and the Vogel's, for all they have done for us.

Sincerely,

Larry Edwards
